Sec. Acheson Again Witness, For Fourth Day

Senatorial Opinion Divided On Result Of His Testimony

By JAMES LEE

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Secretary of State Acheson today went to the witness stand in the Senate's MacArthur hearing for the fourth time with senatorial opinion divided on his defense of administration foreign policy.

Democrats maintained that three days of GOP attack had failed to dent the secretary's contention that the Truman program offers the best hope of winning in Korea and avoiding World War.

Attitude Epitomized

But the opposition attitude was epitomized by Sen. Cain (R) Wash., who declared in a speech prepared for delivery in Seattle that Gen. MacArthur was alone in his determination to carry out the original United Nations aim in Korea—expulsion of the aggressors.

Sen. Smith (R) N. J., charged that Acheson had failed to "disprove that there was a soft policy" toward Communist China.

Sen. Morse (R) Ore., who announced that he would ask Acheson about the "China lobby" supporting the Nationalist government, said the secretary had given "one of the rarest digests" he had ever heard.

A veteran Democrat not known to be friendly to Acheson in his past year of attack by Republicans, said his GOP interrogators "have not touched him." Another, Sen. Stennis (D) Miss., called the cabinet officer's China report "excellent" and the most informative of all sessions to date.

May Conclude Wednesday

Chairman Russell (D) Ga., announced that he hopes to finish with Acheson tomorrow afternoon. His plan, he said, is to call Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer to the witness stand Thursday.

Acheson cited Wedemeyer as authority for a 1945 statement that Chiang Kai Shek could not hope to

Confer Degrees On Large Class At Westminster

E. J. Thomas Makes Address To Class Monday Afternoon

"Because of the increasing complexities and dangers of modern life, fundamental human virtues are of greater importance today than ever before," E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, told 236 members of the 1951 graduating class Monday at Westminster college.

"Never has the world stood," Mr. Thomas emphasized, "in such great need of the strength which can flow from those who have been properly fitted for positions of leadership in their homes, in their communities, in their nation and in the world."

Titanic Forces Battle

He explained that titanic forces are battling it out on the issue of the individual... as to whether he shall be submerged into the mass of a faceless society dominated by the material state or whether he shall live in a world which offers him sovereignty, dignity and sanctity.

Warning that the enemy is a master of trickery and camouflage, Thomas asserted that the social and economic order which we must defend is far stronger in every detail than any other.

Dr. Koussevitsky Dies After Illness

BOSTON, June 5.—(INS)—Dr. Serge Koussevitsky, one of the world's top conductors and conductor-emeritus of the Boston Symphony orchestra, died last night at the New England Medical Center after a brief illness. He was 76.

The Russian-born conductor became identified internationally with the Boston Symphony as its leader, a position he held longer than anyone else. He was appointed conductor in the fall of 1924 and stepped down at the end of the 1948-1949 season.

When Roland Fisher, president of the local bus operators union, was asked today: "Are there any new developments?" he replied negatively and said no conferences were proposed.

Samuel Friedman, president of the Shenandoah Valley Transportation company, was asked the same query and replied: "There is nothing new," indicating the first move was up to the union.

Twenty-one buses are garaged here. Batteries have been removed from the vehicles. More than that number have been put in the garage at Sharon.

The company offered to increase employees pay six cents an hour. The men, who received $1.28 for driving and $1.38 for mechanic's work, have asked an increase of 10 percent.

Meanwhile, people are without bus service and apparently nothing is being done to end the deadlock.

Conferring of degrees will take place during the afternoon and evenings following Friday, with the customary dinner party honoring the new candidates and their wives concluding the program on Friday evening.

This will be the first reunion for the new Commander-in-Chief, Ill. John H. Templeton, and the class for the reunion is being assembled in his honor.

Class organization will take place on Wednesday afternoon, and the usual class picture will be taken on Thursday afternoon, with dinner for the candidates and members each evening during the four day meeting.

It is expected that there will be many guests from surrounding points attend the various sessions, both from the local consistory, and from visiting consistories.

Report Confession In Dancer's Death

NEW YORK, June 5.—(INS)—Police said today a 42-year-old housepainter seized last night in Brooklyn confessed the strangulation murder of burlesque dancer Dorothea Sarasky on wooded Death Hill in Staten Island.

District Attorney Herman Methfessel identified him as August Jagusch and said he had served a term in Sing-Sing prison for second degree assault.

According to the district attorney, Jagusch said the young woman was kissing him when suddenly she bit him. He became enraged, kicked and struck her, tore the clothes from her body and strangled her.

Bus Strike In Second Day

No Negotiations Are Scheduled, Leaders Report

Strike of bus operators in New Castle, Sharon and Farrell was at an impasse today.

No conferences looking toward an end of the strike which began early Monday morning have been scheduled.

When Roland Fisher, president of the local bus operators union, was asked today: "Are there any new developments?" he replied negatively and said no conferences were proposed.

Samuel Friedman, president of the Shenandoah Valley Transportation company, was asked the same query and replied: "There is nothing new," indicating the first move was up to the union.

Twenty-one buses are garaged here. Batteries have been removed from the vehicles. More than that number have been put in the garage at Sharon.

Graduate 475 At West Point

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 5.—(INS)—West Point's traditional June week exercises came to a close today with the graduation ceremony and 475 cadets will receive degrees following an address by Defense Secretary Marshall.

For 69 of the new second lieutenants today is a double red-letter day, for as soon as the last man is given his B.S. in military engineering, they will hasten to the altars at three West Point chapels to wed.

West Point Cadets are not permitted to marry until after graduation.

Further Action Against Reds Now Forecast

Upholding Conviction Of Eleven Top Reds Opens Way For Move

NEW YORK, June 5.—(INS)—A United States attorney today promised "forthcoming action" against Communist subversives with the support of the U. S. supreme court ruling upholding the conviction of 11 top party leaders.

Prosecutor Irvin H. Saypol noted that evidence of subversive activities by other Communist party leaders had already been presented to a special federal grand jury in New York. He praised the high court decision, saying it "fortifies the broad offensive against the internal enemy who is but the shadow of the enemy without."

Could Prosecute 55,000

Legal circles declared that the court ruling sustaining the conviction of the Communist chiefs for conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force paved the way for prosecution of the party's 55,000 members.

The 11, who are free on bail ranging from $20,000 to $30,000, are not expected to be demanded to jail for at least 25 days, according to the federal prosecutor.

However, five of their attorneys sentenced by Judge Harold R. Medina to prison terms for contempt of court may be asked to surrender within ten days. Medina, who presided at the lengthy trial, declined to comment on the supreme court ruling.

Harry Sacher, one of the Communists' attorneys, announced that he will ask the court for a rehearing within the 15-day period provided by law.

Expect U.N. To Reject Latest Russian Move

By PIERRE J. HUSS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., June 5.—The U. N. trusteeship council is ready to slap down an expected Russian maneuver today to slip Communist China into the world organization through the "back door."

A preliminary canvassing of a majority of the twelve delegates on the council indicated that the anticipated Soviet bid for ousting the Chinese Nationalist representative in favor of a Peiping emissary will be voted down.

The council opens a six-week session this forenoon.

Statements Prepared

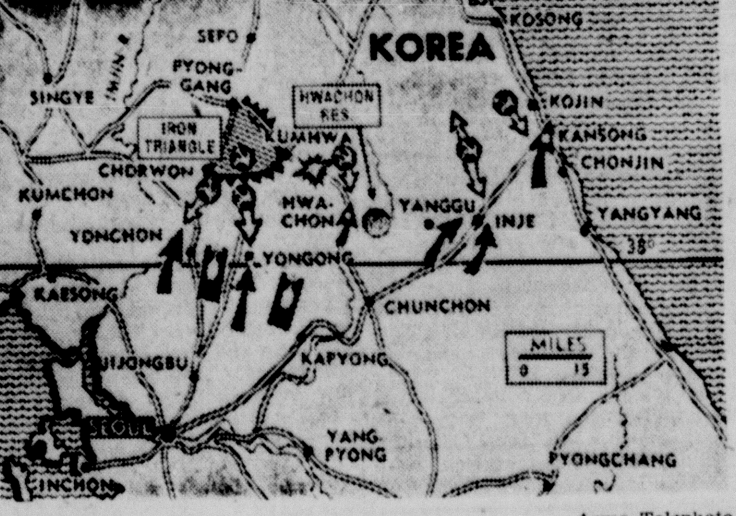

Several western delegates have prepared statements answering Russian charges that Mao Tse-tung is the properly constituted ruler of China.

The opening session is a sound-board for the "peace feeler" atmosphere present on the international scene. U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie and the British representative are expected to speak.

STRONG EARTH TREMOR

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 5.—(INS)—Residents of San Jose were panic-stricken for a brief period last night when a strong earthquake rocked the city.

The shock which came at 7:20 p. m. sent people streaming from theaters and their homes.

KOREA—Regrouped Reds fought from concrete bunkers to keep the 8th Army from their massed supplies and reserve troops in the "Iron Triangle" (shaded area). Allied troops and tanks continued to push toward Chongjin and Hamhung, base cities of the triangle in the face of fierce enemy resistance. On the east-central front, Communist troops retreated as the Allies attempted a "nukeraker" operation, closing in from the east and west in the Hwachon-Inja area. ROK units on the eastern front met light opposition and advanced five miles in the Kansong area.

Ready To Use A-Bombs If Russia Attacks In Europe

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A congressional leader said today that U. S. Air crews are standing by with orders to atom-bomb Russia immediately in the event Soviet forces launch an attack in Europe.

Rep. Cannon (D) Mo., asserted that the crews and planes have been selected and the air force is under orders to strike at certain designated targets in the USSR. Cannon, chairman of the house appropriations committee, made this disclosure in an interview with International News Service.

Cannon stated that the A-bomb (Continued on Page Two)

Hold Collins' Car Hit Kline

Coroner's Jury Hears Evidence

After hearing evidence in the death of Dorsey N. Kline, of 349 Neshannock avenue, who was fatally injured early on the morning of May 21, 1951, a coroner's jury, summoned by Coroner Charles E. Allen, brought in a verdict that Kline's death resulted from injuries sustained when struck by the auto of William Dean Collins, also of Neshannock avenue. The inquest was held in the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz.

City Detectives Thomas J. Boyle and George Sigler testified to investigating the collision which resulted in Kline's death, and of coming across the car owned by Collins, whom they took into custody on May 24. After being confronted with the facts in the case, they testified that Collins admitted he had driven the car which struck Kline.

Dr. Vincent Prioletti testified that Kline was dead on arrival at the New Castle hospital, and that he had multiple fractures of the skull, and a compound fracture of the right leg.

Dr. W. A. Womer, city physician, told of examining the car of Collins (Continued on Page Two)

New Note To Go To Russia

PARIS, June 5.—(INS)—The western powers were reported today to be preparing a new note to Russia stressing that it is impossible to include discussion of the North Atlantic Pact and American bases on the agenda of a July conference of big four foreign ministers.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, a representative at the big four deputies' talks in Paris, informed the United States, Britain and France yesterday that Russia is agreeable to a conference beginning July 23 in Washington if the two items are taken up.

Sen. Tom Connally Not To Run Again

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(INS)—Sen. Tom Connally (D) Tex., caught in the cross-fire of the MacArthur-Acheson foreign policy dispute, has virtually decided not to seek reelection next year.

The Senate Foreign Relations chairman is keeping the door open but his closest friends believe today he will end his long legislative career rather than undertake the bruising campaign now in prospect.

Connally has spent 34 years in Congress. At 74—his age next August 19—and facing challenges from two younger opponents, he is described as frankly doubtful of his chances for reelection.

Fierce Combat Develops In Some Sectors

Despite Resistance Some Gains Are Made By Allied Forces

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 5.—United Nations troops driving toward a key supply area in central North Korea hacked out fresh gains ranging up to more than a mile and a half today, despite fierce Communist resistance.

Chinese and North Korean forces struck back violently in most sectors of the 125-mile front, provoking battles in which Allied columns had to slug their way forward virtually foot by foot.

At some points, particularly along the four main roads leading up to the Kumhwa-Chorwon-Pyongyang triangle in the center, the grinding UN push was fought to a near halt by the enemy.

Advance In West

In the west, however, allied troops stormed across to the north bank of the strategic Imjin river in the area east of Korangpo which is 29 miles north-northwest of Seoul, the South Korean capital. The U. S. Eighth Army said in its Tuesday night communique that the crossing was achieved in the face of "heavy small arms fire" laid down by Reds defending the southwest approaches to Chorwon.

Further east, it was announced, other UN forces hammered out gains up to 3,000 yards above Yonchong which lies six miles north of parallel 38, astride the Uijongbu-Chorwon highway.

Northeast and north of Yonpyong, along a road leading up to Kumhwa from the southwest, the Eighth Army said Red troops made a "limited" withdrawal Tuesday under withering allied artillery and air strikes.

Block U. N. Advance

But in the mountainous center of the front it was a different story. There two Chinese regiments—one north-northwest and the other north of Hwachon—blocked the UN advance on Kumhwa from the southeast.

Throughout Tuesday, these regiments offered what the communists described as "heavy resistance." No allied gains were claimed above Hwachon.

In the east-central area, UN troops smashed forward up to 1,500 yards northeast of Yanggu during the morning. "dispensing the enemy to the north," the Eighth Army bulletin related.

But other attacking allied forces farther east became "heavily engaged" with bitterly resisting Red troops above Inje and Hamgye. The communists said, a counterattacking North Korean company "penetrated" allied positions west-southwest of the UN-held port of Kansong in the morning but was "repulsed" in the afternoon.

Infiltrated Allied Lines

Kansong lies 30 road miles up the shoreline highway from the 38th parallel. North Koreans had infiltrated allied lines west of the city on Monday but were cleared out, only to renew the counterblows Tuesday.

Allied planes carried out numerous low-level attacks Tuesday in close support of the UN ground forces.

A Fifth Air Force Tuesday night summary said UN airmen destroyed or damaged 47 supply-filled (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Mowing machines were in action in several fields along the New Castle to Enon Valley highway on Monday. This was the first work of cutting the field crops of 1951 reported here.

"Tis rather a small world at that! Pa Newc was stopped at a street intersection here on Monday afternoon, and in sight in traffic were cars from widely separated parts of the nation. They were from Wyoming, California, and Florida.

Delivery of oil for surface treatment work to the state highway department late Monday enabled the department to start the surface work in the Bessemer section today. The work will continue throughout the county until all the lesser traveled roads are placed in good condition.

Neshannock creek was at low tide this morning it was observed by Pa Newc. A very small amount of water was flowing down the center of the creek bed. Building of a dam somewhere along the creek would be appreciated by boys and girls to provide a place for bathing.

Notice that some new service stations are already being constructed along the new New Castle-Butler highway in Lawrence County. One of the older service stations, which was found to be between the old and new 422 routes, is solving the problem by erecting a new front on the rear of the old station, which will make the business establishment face on the new highway.

Old Covered Bridge Coming Down

Historic Kauffman bridge gives way to progress. The covered bridge is one of seven of the original twenty that crossed streams in Lawrence county. The picturesque structure has weathered the elements for 62 years. It was built in 1889 and was in poorer condition than any of the other six. The bridge, which will be replaced by a steel structure, crosses the Little Neshannock about a half mile from Wilmington Junction on the road to Neshannock Falls. The frame work is rapidly being torn down as workmen carry the ancient beams away from the site.

tish commonwealth nations have stated that a "new effort" must be made to get a peaceful settlement along the 38th parallel in Korea.

Poland's Julius Katz-Suchy, commonwealth spokesman in U. N., last night ruled out a cease-fire in Korea unless accompanied by a settlement of outstanding Far East issues—including Formosa and Red China's entry into U. N.

The Chinese Communist and North Koreans have given no sign of willingness to negotiate a truce and the fighting in Korea goes on.

stabilize North China unless he came to a "satisfactory settlement" with the Communists and instituted social and economic reforms. This was the position taken by Gen. Marshall and the administration.

Wedemeyer was the author of a 1945 report on China and a 1947 report on both China and Korea he was sent back to the Far East on a special mission after Gen. Marshall returned from his unsuccessful attempt to bring unity and peace to China.

What Acheson Said

Acheson told the senators that: 1. There was not and is not any "Communist influence" in the state department shaping U. S. policy on China.

2. At present there are no forces "strong enough or active enough" in China to threaten the Communist regime. He made it clear that applies to the Nationalist forces on Formosa as well as to guerrillas in China proper.

3. There is unity in America on U. S. policy everywhere in the Far East except China. He cited the Philippines, Indo-China, Malaya, Japan, and the Dutch East Indies.

4. Gen. Marshall insisted that he prepare the instructions for his 1946 mission to China, but later accepted suggestions altering them from Secretary of State Byrne.

Sen. Brewster (R) Me., said this was in conflict with Marshall's testimony that he had had nothing to do with his instructions.

5. The armistice which President Truman was planning to suggest in late March "probably" would not have gotten anywhere but it had "other important collateral usefulness." Other witnesses explained that this proposal was dropped after MacArthur issued his cease-fire call to the Red commander in Korea.

Sen. McMahon (D) Conn., moved to have the set record of 1948 senate foreign relations hearings made public so the people could, as he contended, understand that there was full support for Marshall's program in the GOP 80th Congress.

McMahon said it might be "embarrassing" for some senators who were trying to prove a different point of view, but that he would insist upon his point.

Sen. Sparkman (D) Ala., tried to pin-point the date on which disagreement on China policy began, in the light of McMahon's contention.

In a very interesting manner the class history was unfolded by Loretta Siegel, Jim Vaughn, Sophie Jendrusik and Bill Stump after which the orchestra composed of Charles Kelso, Kenn McPheeters, Ed Gorgas, Russell Brown, Fred Coates and Louis Szewczyk played.

Don Bacon served as master of ceremonies. The quartet made up of Wanda White, Kenny McPheeters, Johanne Johnson and Charles Kelso sang.

The class will was presented by Rosemarie Mulcahy, Lewis Simpson, Joanne Miller and Edwin Gorgas, followed by a solo dance by Mary Lou Devite. Joanne Miller pleased with a solo followed by the presentation of the class prophecy, Dorothy Genova, Ronald May and Don Bacon. Wanda White was responsible for the class poem, with a melodious quartet composed of Jeanne Miller, Alice Freed, Joanne Miller and Regina Polding singing.

Concluding the program were two solo selections by Phyllis Phillips and Joanne Miller. The class song written by Phyllis Phillips was a presentation of the key to "The crews have been picked, the planes are ready, the propellers are practically turning, just waiting for the word that the Russians have attacked."

Cannon was asked whether the United States might not abstain from launching an atom-bomb attack in the event Russia employed conventional weapons of warfare.

He replied: "If the Russians attack in Europe they'll be hit with everything we have. The air force has its orders."

The Missouri expressed confidence, however, that Russia will not launch a war.

boxcars, cut enemy rail and highway lines at a dozen places and inflicted at least 100 casualties.

Following nine Red counter-attacks Monday, an Eighth Army spokesman said the enemy has switched from the delaying maneuvers of the past week to full-scale "defensive action."

Gains were gouged out by allied columns toward Kumhwa and Chorwon, the two points at the base of the "iron triangle." But these advances were very small in the face of the bitter Red opposition.

Compelled To Fall Back

Above the 38th parallel border town of Yongong, northeast of the South Korean capital of Seoul, one UN task force was compelled to fall back. The column was hit with blistering Red fire from bunkers and entrenchments.

Farther east, on the road from Changpoo to Kumhwa, an allied tank force was beaten back Monday by heavy enemy mortar and artillery fire. The Chinese Reds Bearing the brunt of the fighting on the mountainous central front, the Chinese were reacting with increasing fire along the edges of what may be their main supply area below Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

In the east-central sector, two enemy planes, believed to be jets, dropped five bombs on UN positions north of Yanggu Monday night. Further details of the air attack were not disclosed.

DEFENSE PRODUCTION ACT EXTENSION

Capitol consensus is that Congress will go along with an extension of the present defense production act but not with the president's recommended changes for a stiffer law. Any prospect that legislators will give in to the terrific pressure to drop price and wage controls from the act seems to be out. This is in spite of the opposition of such powerful groups as the National Association of Manufacturers and the several agriculture groups that have been testifying recently before congressional committees.

Continuation seemed assured when such Republican stalwarts as Senators Robert A. Taft, Ohio, and Homer Capehart, Indiana, agreed that controls would have to remain in effect. In fact, Taft has flatly forecast an extension. He says it has to be done in view of the rearmament of inflationary pressures which all agree gradually are building up.

In view of the current slow progress in Congress on consideration of the bill, however, it appears a temporary extension of the present law may be passed. Wrangling over President Truman's proposals for a year-to-year farm parity freeze, stronger rent controls and whether to drop all controls indicates the legislators will be far from finished with the extension when the current law expires June 30.

A straight extension of one to six months may be voted, pending the time when Congress decides on a definite overall controls plan.

The fate of the president's proposals for tighter controls is still up in the air because of formidable opposition to many of them, particularly the parity freeze.

At present, it seems Congress will ride along for the time pretty much with what it has now, and forego most of the president's recommendations.

NOT BRAIN-TEASERS

From all accounts the more than 175,000 college students who took the selective service college qualification test for deferment to continue their education did not find the mathematical problems too hard.

Confronted by an individual question, they had to select which of four or five answers was the correct one. It required no mathematical genius to get the answers to many of them without putting pencil to paper. For example:

"A car X passes T, who is going 20 miles an hour. When T has gone one mile, X is two miles ahead of him. How fast in miles per hour is X traveling?" The choice of answers is 30, 40, 45, 50 and 60.

T has traveled his mile in three minutes, but in the same elapsed time X has traveled that mile and two more, or three miles in three minutes. If he goes a mile a minute, the answer plainly is 60.

There are many mathematical brain-teasers of high school and college days. In the former is the elaborate diagram to prove in plane geometry that the square of the hypotenuse of a right-angled triangle is equal to the combined squares of the two other sides. Too bad "How old is Ann?" wasn't in the selective service quiz. This problem, invented by a newspaperman 48 years ago, went around the world, causing argument without end. So far as known it broke up no homes, but probably was the cause of numerous black eyes. Here it is:

"Mary is 24 years old. She is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?"

The answer is 18. Readers of 2,000 newspapers were asked their opinions and teachers of mathematics were interviewed. As recently as 1940 the question bobbed up again.

Here's another disputatious problem that went the round for years: "If a hen and a half lays an egg and a half in a day and a half, how many eggs can six hens lay in seven days?"

WHEN JOB SEEKS MAN

A career man at 40 is Dr. George Keith Funston, president of Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., who will succeed as president of the New York Stock Exchange the $100,000-a-year executive Emil Schramm, who retired some weeks ago. A native of Waterloo, Ia., Dr. Funston worked his way through Trinity, part of the time as chauffeur to the man whose place he was to take as its head. He was graduated with high honors in 1932, and two years later from the Harvard School of Business Administration, where also he was self-supporting. From then on, such was his brilliance, it was a case of the job seeking the man.

At Harvard Dr. Funston was retained on the business school's research staff. Subsequently he was employed by important corporations, one of which, while he was director of purchases, gave him leave of absence to serve on the War Production Board.

Many changes can take place in any college in a dozen years, and Dr. Funston, who received an honorary L.H.D. degree from Wesleyan in 1947, made it his business to know and participate in all that was going on at Trinity, earning from the students the friendly nickname of "the great observer." At Trinity he streamlined courses and tightened up finances.

A special committee of the Stock Exchange hunted for the "right" man from September until May. It found him in this combination of educator and industrialist, whose qualities, not stock holdings, had made him trustee of many corporations. He will get the same $100,000 salary as his predecessor.

An Indian philosopher insists that if we all turned nudists wars would cease. Maybe he's right—without uniforms how could we pin on medals?

New Step In Britain's Policy

A new step in Britain's policy of extending self-government to backward areas, even at a time when she is in grave difficulties with Iran, is scheduled to be taken this summer.

It will be the first election under a new constitution in Nigeria, a large British dependency in Africa, whose natural resources are of vital importance to Britain at the present time and would become immeasurably more so in event of war.

The government of Prime Minister Attlee has failed the fourth election as a "bold experiment in democracy." It follows recent elections in another British dependency, the Gold Coast. An official British statement says:

Another Example

"It is yet another example of Britain's policy of leading dependent territories to responsible self-government within the commonwealth."

The history of Nigeria is interesting in connection with Iran's charges that the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company is nothing more or less than a stranglehold on Iran's dependence and a presumed example of British colonial exploitation.

Such charges take on a peculiar tone when it is recalled that when white men first began to unravel the mysteries of the dark continent, they found in Nigeria immense natural wealth and in no time at all a private company was formed to exploit it.

It seemed entirely logical that as the years went on and the exploitation proved highly profitable, the British government of the time bought out the company which meant, in effect, that it bought out Nigeria, lock, stock and barrel.

Practice of Times

It was the practice of the times. France was colonizing Morocco and Equatorial Africa; Leopold of Belgium was busy with the Congo and imperial Germany hurried deep with money and guns in Togoland and the Cameroons.

The few Cassandras of the time warned that colonial policies of this sort carried the germs of a world war were largely unheeded. Great Britain is making sure, of course, that with any increases in self-government anywhere, she will not risk losing access to vital resources, although they will be obtained—and are being obtained now—on a far different basis than at the turn of the century.

Nigeria is a huge African territory, larger than the state of Texas, covering 338,593 square miles, with a population of over 24,000,000.

Three Separate Territories. It originally comprised three separate territories. But these were united some years ago for purposes of trade and commerce—also with the idea that some sort of more or less autonomous government should take over the local administration.

The British have prided themselves in the fact that in the past half century they have made tremendous strides in raising the standard of living in Nigeria.

But it also is unquestionably true that experts in colonial development have found some of the richest tin deposits in the world, plus vast supplies of antimony and other metals and minerals of tremendous importance in peacetime and of immeasurable value in war.

Indications are that the Gold Coast elections were a successful experiment. Even the most backward of the tribesmen came to understand what it meant. The better-educated took enormous pride in their new-found recognition and the British government, obviously, feels that by sacrificing some of its own power and authority it will profit in the long run by greater cooperation and harder work by the natives.

With the Iran government growing stiffer in its stand against any form of cooperation or negotiation with the British, preparations for the elections in Nigeria seem to come at an opportune time as an affirmation of British integrity.

It can hardly have any effect upon the possibly disastrous march of events in the Middle East. But it at least is something for the records of history.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

It may be you won't ever see him again.
But the boys of today quickly give to the men.

It may be you won't hear of him doing well.
Or remember his name, but you never can tell.

He's young, but to service at some post he'll grow.
And he may be a man you'll be proud that he's making his future a shell.

You may need him no more, but you never can tell.
So when close to a boy be as fair as you can.
For it may be you'll soon need the skill of the man.
As doctor or priest he may ring at your bell.

This may not occur, but you never can tell.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The doughty Admiral John Reeves, Jr., now general manager of Los Angeles Department of Airports, was a slicker for proper attire when he was on active service.

They say that one day in mid-Pacific he spied a humble seaman who was wearing a frayed and battered hat. Without a word the Admiral snatched it off the seaman's head and sailed it over the rail into the briny.

Taken by surprise, the seaman obeyed a wild impulse. He grabbed the Admiral's gold-encrusted cap and sent it flying in the same direction as his own hat. There was a moment of complete silence. Then the Admiral—a regular guy in every sense of the word—broke the tension by proposing, "Son, I'll tell you what we'll do. You buy me another cap and I'll buy you one."

Chris Morley observes, "A man who has his initials on his pajamas must be uncertain of himself. Surely you ought to know who you are by bedtime."

Folks Of Fame

Allen J. Ellender, United States senator, was born in Montegut, Terrebonne parish, Louisiana, on Sept. 24, 1891. He was admitted to the Louisiana bar in 1913, and was city attorney at Houma, La.

He served in the Louisiana house of representatives and was speaker of the house. He was elected to the United States senate in 1943, re-elected in 1949 to term ending 1955.

Dorothy Dalton, dimpled darling of the silent screen, was born in Chicago, Ill., in 1894. She acted for several seasons with a stock company and on the Orpheum circuit in vaudeville. Her film debut was made in a picture called Aphrodite. Among the later pictures in which she starred were Wild Winship's Widow, The Flame of the Yukon, Vive la France, Quicksand, Market of Souls, L'Apache, His Friend's Wife, Black is White, Dark Mirror, Half an Hour's Idiot of the North, Moran, The Lady Letty, Fog Bound, Taming the Whirlwind, and Law of the Lawless.

WRAPPING PAPER
LONDON—(INS)—Shortage of wrapping paper and bags has become so marked in Britain that housewives may soon have to take their own to get goods wrapped up at local stores. Already the wartime restriction to "bring your own paper if you want your purchases wrapped," has appeared in some London shops and is expected to spread as the paper position becomes worse.

And he may be right.
By the time November rolls on people will be asking "Rudolph... who?"

There are already people who think that Estes is a parlor organ and Tobey is a small jug made to look like Churchill.

They Say
(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Economic Stabilizer Johnston: "If we lend things to people who can't stand their toes being stepped on, it would be damn the consumer and full pockets ahead."

LONDON—Ambassador John Foster Dulles: "History shows it is dangerous for peace if we ever seem to be disunited and aggressive powers get that impression."

NEW YORK—General MacArthur: "Believe me when I tell you that all-out war in the future will be disastrous to the world. But a racial war would throw us back to the dark ages."

LONDON—Margaret Truman, asked if the President would approve if she married a titled Englishman: "Why not? Daddy's very democratic you know."

The old furnace felt mighty good this morning... but then we can expect these cool days... gives strength for the warm ones that are coming this way. Looks like the strawberry season will be a humdinger... the little plants are loaded with the fruit that makes the false denture people suffer. Dentists are looking forward to a busy season... treating the folks who get seeds under their plates... Know of one woman who peels the strawberries for her husband... Now there you have something... devotion at its finest.

And that other famous season is about to start... summer vacation for the children. Everyone is looking forward to Friday... the last day of school. But there is mixed emotion... Like the emotion when your mother-in-law goes over a high cliff in your new Cadillac.

Picnics will be in style... but we are a bit worried about such affairs for this season... What is a picnic without hot dogs? And who can afford hot dogs... some one will come along with another convenient-to-cook-and-eat item... This is America and a little thing like finding a substitute for a convenient picnic sandwich won't be difficult to solve.

The past big holiday... Memorial Day... showed that when the American people want to work on a problem they can... The safety record of that day shows that people want safety... And if they really want a thing they will work for it... we pray now that in the future more and more people who drive motor cars will keep before them the ideal of safe driving. It isn't always the fast driver that causes the accidents... The so-called Sunday driver is one of the most dangerous fellows... He goes along slowly, looking over the country side... His judgment of distance is not too accurate because he hasn't had the practice of daily driving... And all in all this causes traffic to slow down... and this makes the impatient driver fume and then trouble boils... Well, we can all improve in our driving habits and what say we start improving right now.

What Keeps Us Broke!

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

People used to go broke trying to keep up with the Joneses, but that was a long time ago.

People go broke now trying to keep up with progress, and it's a much faster short-cut to the poorhouse.

The men and women in this country who invent things, or improve on things already invented, should be ashamed of themselves for the misery they cause their fellow citizens. I'd like to switch 'em all, and send them to bed without any supper.

When a man buys a product these days he runs the risk of having it outdated almost before he can get it home and unwrapped. And we Americans are so conditioned to being right up to date and having the very latest styles that if we bought a pair of gloves with five fingers, and the next day an improved glove with six fingers came out we wouldn't be caught dead wearing the old-fashioned (by one day) ones.

Latest to Blister Me
The latest stride of progress that has me burned and blistered is color television. Less than a week ago I was as pleased with my set as an elephant in a peanut patch.

It occupied the place of honor in the living room, and it was my habit, first thing in the morning, to brush it, groom and curry it, and tell it we would give it a good home as long as it lived.

Now, thanks to a passel of scientific tinkers, and a Supreme Court decision, my pride and joy soon will be as outmoded as a wig stand, and with me just finished with my payments.

There will be but one thing for me to do, and that's just what all other TV owners will do—how to progress and go in hook for a converter or a new color set. No true American could stick with black and white when his neighbors were exclaiming over the color of Milton Berle's shirt. Fay Emerson's chignon, and Arthur Godfrey's freckles.

And as soon as everybody puts their dough on the line for a color TV, some mischief maker will spend a week end in a laboratory and come up with a three-dimensional job.

It's not only money that these never-ceasing improvements cost a man. They cost him a lot of time spent for nothing.

I speak from experience. I had spent all the time I used learning how to defrost a refrigerator in practicing the oboe, people wouldn't laugh so when I do play the oboe. And just when I got so I could defrost a refrigerator without cutting it off for a month, or turning the kitchen into a swimming pool, out comes refrigerators that don't need defrosting.

I could name you fifty similar examples. Just when everybody got so they could put the top of a convertible up or down without bodily injury, some bird thought up automatic tops. And the automatic shift came along just when most Americans had mastered shifting gears without stripping them.

Wonder what would happen if this country declared a moratorium on progress for a year? No new cars, no new clothes, no new treatments for the finest tobacco, no new soaps that are as safe for the kitchen floor as they are for your face, just no new improvements of any kind.

The chances are we'd all die of the strain of not being under one. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHURCH VITAL TO RURAL COMMUNITY

For many years leaders in social work have encouraged marriage by clergymen in preference to marriage by the justice of the peace, judge or other officers of the law. The reason usually given is that marriage by religious officers tends to make the ceremony more sacred and emotionally and socially more meaningful.

Since the days of Augustine, the Catholic church has always considered marriage as a sacrament. Marriage of all devout Catholics takes place in a church and the ceremony is highly religious in nature. Also, Judaism has always put great religious emphasis on marriage, and many faithful Jews are married in the synagogue.

There seems to be a growing practice of church marriages among most Protestants, but my impression is that not nearly a majority of marriages performed by Protestant clergymen occur in churches. Before writing this I telephoned a friend who is a Protestant clergyman in a town of 6,000 people. He said that he had the last nine weddings he had in a church. I was not able to find reliable figures for Protestant churches in general. It might be a good subject for research for a doctor's dissertation.

Mrs. Myers and I were married in a little country church where two Protestant congregations worship in turn, though most of us attend each others' services. This little church is about a hundred years old, but ours was the first wedding held in it, some thirty years ago. Since that time there must have been nearly a hundred marriages in this church. In this strictly rural community there have been during the five years we have lived here from two to four marriages a year in this church. It has become the neighborhood custom. As a rule most of us in the neighborhood are invited to nearly every wedding. Often, too, the entire public is welcome, and practically everybody takes the bride something costing only one or several dollars.

Couples Attend Church
To my knowledge all the marriages in this church have, to date, been permanent. Most of the couples attend church here and in due time their children attend the community Sunday school in this church. At any Sunday morning church service one may see half a dozen or more mothers with babies in arms, and many whole families together, including children from three upward, are in attendance. Indeed, the church is a very vital force in this rural community. Whereas some rural churches have been abandoned and are falling down, this one seems to thrive.

This little country church appeals to me for what it symbolizes for furthering good family life in this community. Throughout the nation many families drive together on Sunday morning to a rural church. The greatest problem is to find trained clergy and other leaders for these rural cities on the hills and to get more of these farmers to contribute generously from their usual abundance.

If the leaders have and those institutions training rural leaders tried harder to get going a custom of marriages in the rural church, it might be one way not only to boost this church but also to further in a strong way better and happier rural families.

Bible Thought
Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.—Hebrews 4:16.

Bennett Of Utah

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—Someone jocosely warned Gov. Dewey never to shave off his mustache too abruptly, he might catch cold—and Senator Bennett (R., Utah) thinks that the same warning should apply to the shaving off of the various welfare projects which have accumulated during the past 18 years. That is, if the Republicans next year win the presidency and the Congress, there should be no attempt at the abrupt and total removal of Federal paternalism. The shock might be too much for us.

Specifically, Bennett seems to have in mind some voluntary withdrawals, as in the case of social security benefits. Of the mounting millions now eligible for future aids in their old age, a certain number do not need aid and do not want it. In the first category are those persons of thrift and success to whom an additional $70 a month at 65 would be a drop in the brimming bucket.

In A Second Group

In the second group are an undetermined but not inconsiderable number of people who are poor but proud and who have violent prejudices against being creatures of a managed economy. Bennett mentioned to me one of his own constituents, a lady of moderate means but bristling independence, who vows she'll never touch the money which the New Deal filched from her pay envelope.

There may not be many of these Barbara Fritchie-like at large, but they do suggest a way to start unscrambling the welfare omelet: let anybody who so desires be exempt from participating in the social security system.

Another unscrambling method under discussion is to rewrite the social security laws so as to cover catastrophic cases only. There are about 12 million persons over 65 today (recent surveys show that many elderly opportunists are learning to lie about their ages), but by no means all of them are destitute. If we cared for the genuine hardship cases out of pay-as-you-go taxation, several bad features of the Welfare State would be avoided. First of all, we would abandon the hypocrisy that the average Social Security payment is enough to do a real pauper any good. Also, we would save an enormous overhead in administration salaries which now pour into bureaucratic pockets. Most important, we would avoid the insidious danger of creeping controls over human existence. It was, as everybody knows, Count Bismarck who first experimented with nationalized welfare as a means of social dictatorship in Germany.

Bennett, a relatively noiseless freshman, has preferred not to hawk his ideas on the Senate floor. But he will be bringing them to the attention of the party leaders before the GOP convention meetings a year from now.

Reticent But Thoughtful Group

He represents a reticent but thoughtful group which hopes to prevent the GOP from losing another election by the long-practiced method of out-fumbling the opposition. Among his other unpublished views is a well-considered doubt about the wisdom of nominating a soldier. Bennett is without personal prejudice against Gens. Eisenhower and MacArthur, and he has no built-in phobia against "militarism," if any such thing exists in America today. But the record of soldier-presidents has not been impressive, especially from the Republican viewpoint.

"I've been in business all my life up till now, and six months in the Senate hasn't made me a political expert. I can't help wondering how long it would take a military man to learn all the politics and economics that the White House job requires—and how much interest, a professional soldier would take in these important matters. In the Senate there are 96 members with six-year terms, and that gives some chance to learn the ropes. But if a President had to learn as he went along—well, I just don't know."

Not-Too Familiar Type

A hard-pressed paint manufacturer and automobile salesman, Bennett brings a not-too familiar type of statesmanship to the Senate and to the GOP. He has the canny, pragmatic approach of a small businessman who can't afford to make gross errors of judgment.

This cracker-barrel sagaciousness could come in handy for the GOP. Bennett, a former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, came to the Senate by defeating Elbert Thomas, a rampant Fair Dealer and Laborite. But there is very little about the new Senator which suggests vengeful reactionism. He's a go-slow conservative, as his ideas on social security reform indicate. And he has a brainful of well-weighted ideas which deserve the notice and respect of his party elders.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

When Robert Vogler was released from prison by the Hungarian Reds, he was just a shadow of his former self.

His wife, his friends, his doctors feared that he might never fully recuperate in mind and body. In spite of the best of care given to him he seemed to have lost interest in life.

Then he was sent to the Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md., for complete rest and whatever treatments might help him.

And now, at last, Bob Vogler is on the way to complete recovery. A few days ago he was visited by a reporter.

His loyal wife, who had stood by him during his long confinement and moved heaven and earth to get him released, was happy for the first time in many months.

Now she KNEW that he would be well again. Now she was completely confident that he would again be her Bob Vogler of old. How did she know?

"He WILL be all right," she told the reporter. "BOB'S LEARNING TO LAUGH AGAIN."

Yes, that's the secret: He is learning to laugh again! And that applies not only to Bob Vogler. It applies to all human beings.

Of all the medicines in the world few are as powerful as LAUGHTER.

Only happy people laugh, and what greater blessing is there than happiness?

Look at the pictures in your newspapers and magazines. Do you ever see Stalin laugh? Or Mao? Or Malik? Do you ever see the Communists with grins on their faces? Grins, sneers, yes—but never any real laughs of happiness, of humor, of joy.

Then look at the pictures taken FROM THE INSTRUCTION BOOK—

Greatest Threat To National Security Is Indifference

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—(INS)—Assistant secretary of defense Daniel K. Edwards believes that indifference of the American people is the greatest threat to national security.

Edwards said in an address to the 23rd annual convention of the American Society of X-ray technicians that Americans must develop a "psychology of endurance" for prolonged defense needs.

"Our very successes on the battlefield," he warned, "are danger signals, because our successes make the position of the aggressor more critical."

Edwards explained that our victories in Korea and aid to western Europe narrow the freedom of action of a potential aggressor, giving him less choice of targets at which to strike back.

Administration Of President Truman Is Given Blame

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 5.—(INS)—Dr. Milton E. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State college, blames the Truman administration for failing to act to "prevent inflation and eventual economic collapse."

Eisenhower told the 57th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association that the government has not "reduced non-essential expenditures as we should."

He cited the farm support program, stating the U. S. would spend $1 billion for the project this year, although farm prices have been at or above parity since 1942.

The brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower expressed belief that the hope for world peace was considerably brighter today.

Eisenhower held, however, that the United Nations must soon develop a world police force with total manpower to be distributed equitably among the participating nations.

CHICKEN CHAMPIONSHIP

HARRISBURG, June 5.—(INS)—The 1951 Pennsylvania chicken of tomorrow championship today was awarded Florin Farms, of Mt. Joy, for 12 birds weighing 31 pounds six ounces.

More than 12,000 broiler chickens were entered in the contest. In the junior division, the future farmers of America in the Sandy Lake chapter won the top prize with a similar entry weighing 39 pounds and two ounces.

Mahoning Auditors Find Discrepancies

Mahoning township auditors have surcharged the three township road supervisors $5562.14. In the report of the township's finances for 1950 the auditors find a number of expenditures which they question, and have made the surcharge.

The first surcharge is for $151.22 for gas and oil, claiming there is no itemized invoice for this.

The second is for $36 for "special maintenance". Third surcharge is $12.90 for work done on "November 31". The fourth surcharge is for $168 payment made to William Mittica for rental of a bulldozer. The auditors claim Mr. Mittica does not own a bulldozer and that he is an employee of Joseph Gennaro, Jr., a supervisor. If this is true, the auditors say, the bulldozer belonged to Mr. Gennaro and would be an illegal expenditure. Another surcharge is for $327.61 for gas and oil said to have been purchased from the father-in-law of Supervisor Conti.

The largest surcharge is for $5,174.52, which is money paid for state funds. This item is entered under item 40-A, maintenance of roads and bridges.

The last surcharge is for $19.60 which the auditors claim is money paid for work done at St. Lucy's club.

Supervisor Joseph Gennaro, Jr., scoffed at the idea that any of the money had been spent illegally. "Every dime of it was spent properly," he said.

As the matter now stands, the surcharges will merely be entered on the financial statement of the township. A judgment could be asked for, and unless the surcharges were cleared the supervisors would have to pay the money over to the township.

The three supervisors of Mahoning township are Joseph Gennaro, Jr., Nick Conti and Frances Gregg. The auditors are W. A. Hoffmann, Jr., Clarence McFate and Elmer Baird.

Charge Mother Made Attack On School Principal

CLEVELAND, June 5—(INS)—Mrs. Bernice Sney, irate mother who allegedly beat up a school principal with a paddle, is to be given a hearing today in Cleveland municipal court on an assault and battery charge.

The principal, James B. Fenwick, 55, who heads Albert Bushnell Hart junior high school, swore out the warrant late yesterday.

The clash came right after classes started when Mrs. Sney went to see Fenwick in his office in response to a letter he had sent her about her son, Daniel, 14, whom he described as "troublesome" and deficient in his school work.

Fenwick said he used a paddle on the boy last September and booted him a "little" one time when he caught him pushing other pupils in the hall.

Mrs. Sney, according to Fenwick, asked to see the paddle and then wacked him on the head, blackening his eyes.

Mrs. Sney, who said Fenwick started the row, told police she took off the principal's glasses and hit him with the paddle "like he did to Danny."

Oak Leaf Cluster Given Chewton Man

For "meritorious service in connection with military operations against an armed enemy while serving as officer in charge of Mobile Installation Team No. 2, Yokohama Signal Depot, from July 22 to November 2, 1950", Chief Warrant Officer John Flecher, of Chewton, has been awarded an Oak Leaf cluster to the Bronze medal he received during World War II.

The citation accompanying the cluster states that Officer Flecher, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Flecher, of Chewton, "was responsible for directing the work of a crew installing radio equipment in tanks processed at the Tokyo Ordnance Center."

"Since there were no installation kits available in the theater, it was necessary to assemble as many items of such kits as could be found and make substitution where needed to insure satisfactory performance of installed equipment. In addition, personnel had to be trained in installation techniques to insure that the work was efficiently completed in minimum time.

Through the superior ability he demonstrated in organizing his work and the exhaustive effort he put forth in locating equipment, Mr. Flecher completed the installation of communications equipment in a large number of tanks practically as fast as they were made available to him from the shops. The outstanding performance of duty displayed by Mr. Flecher inspired the men with whom he worked and reflected great credit on him and the military service."

The Bronze Star was presented to Officer Flecher at Fort Sill, Okla., "for his tireless efforts in overcoming all obstacles to get much-needed supplies to his organization."

He is a veteran of the African campaign and service in the Mediterranean theater of operations during World War II and also holds the Purple Heart.

He is a brother of Mrs. Merle Hildebrand of Indiana, Pa.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

A Word of Appreciation

Mrs. Hammett's heart sank as Mary Anne handed her a note from the teacher. In the past, notes from school meant trouble. But she soon recovered, for the note said:

"I thought you'd like to hear how helpful Mary Anne has been these last few days. We have a new youngster with us. She's quite shy and for the first few days was a very unhappy little girl. Mary Anne 'took over' in just a day or so she's helped Theresa become a real part of the group. I couldn't possibly have done the job myself. If I were Mary Anne's mother, I would be very proud of her."

It isn't hard to imagine what such a note of appreciation did for Mary Anne's mother. It works in the other direction, too. Teachers are human. To hear that parents really appreciate what their youngsters are getting from their school experience will give a hardworking teacher a real "lift". It takes a little time and effort to let your child's teacher know how much John or Mary is enjoying the music and rhythms or the trip to the museum. The next time your young hopeful expresses enthusiasm about something that has happened at school, why not let his teacher know?

Funeral On Friday For Corp. W. G. Lewis, Killed In Korea

Wilmington township was reminded in a tragic manner that the war in Korea is a real war with the announcement that the body of its first casualty would arrive Wednesday morning. The deceased is the late Corp. William G. Lewis, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Glenn Lewis, Rt. 1, New Wilmington.

Corp. Lewis was born in the home of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Neal, Pulaski, August 21, 1925. He attended the Neshannock elementary school and was a member of the class of '44 at New Wilmington high school. He was also a member of the Pulaski Presbyterian church and the Wilmington grange. Enlisting in the Marine Corps on October 1, 1947, he was assigned to a two-year tour of duty on the "Toledo" after completing his basic training at a southern base.

While on the "Toledo" Lewis made two trips across the Pacific and saw duty in Panama and South America. Returning to United States in November 1949, he was stationed at the Philadelphia navy yards until July 1950 when his unit was ordered to report at San Diego, Calif.

Landed At Inchon

Corp. Lewis was shipped out August 18 and landed in Japan September 3. On September 15 he landed at Inchon and was in combat a short time later, his division, the first, going in as relief. The objective was Hill 56, just south of Seoul. Lieut. Tilton Anderson, who was with Lewis at the time of the assault, wrote his parents of the young Marine's heroic death. He is said to have been killed by an enemy grenade after being instrumental in capturing a pill-box where the opposing forces had accounted for numerous casualties among the Marines. The date of the attack was September 24.

Burial was made at the First Marine cemetery just three days later with Chaplain Ernest Hamm in charge. Later, on October 8, full military services were held with many of Corp. Lewis' battalion present.

Both the Silver Star and the Purple Heart were posthumously awarded to Lewis. A permanent citation was also awarded and many messages of condolence which contained words of highest praise for the local boy, were received by the parents from many parts of the world.

The young man is survived by his parents, two brothers, Ralph and Floyd; one sister, Ina Jane, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Neal, Pulaski. The body will arrive in New Castle early Wednesday morning and friends may call at the Lewis home both Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence at 2 p. m. Friday, June 8, with Dr. R. F. Galbreath and Rev. Nash in charge. Interment will be made in Neshannock cemetery.

Two Pittsburgh High School Pupils Injured By Auto

PITTSBURGH, June 5.—(INS)—Two Pittsburgh high school students suffered leg and arm injuries today when a speeding automobile struck them as they crossed the street to South High school.

John T. Ford, 28, of nearby Homestead Park told police his accelerator stuck and that he was unable to avoid hitting 15-year-old Robert Tadder and Elmer Lucas, who also is 15.

Tadder suffered cuts of the left leg and a possible fracture of the right wrist. Lucas was treated for head cuts and leg injury.

Ford's wildly-careening auto swerved around a street car, roared through a red light and hit a moving car and then just missed hitting two gasoline pumps before it smacked into a truck in the service station. His car bounced from the truck into another automobile before stopping.

He told police he was driving his sister to work when the gas pedal stuck.

Attends Ordination
Of Cousin At Omaha

Mrs. Mary Lada of 201 West Madison avenue has returned from Omaha, Neb., where she attended the ordination of her cousin, Rev. John Michalak, to the priesthood at Stanislaus church. He is a graduate of Kenrick seminary at St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Lada was accompanied by relatives from Erie, and coming to Iowa the party had to detour to continue to Nebraska on account of the recent big rains in that state. At Ithaca, a town of about 150, between Omaha and Lincoln, there were two nights of thunder-showers that brought as much as 8½ inches of rain in the area. One Of Nation's Most Wanted

Criminals Taken

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(INS)

—The FBI today announced the capture of Henry Clay Tollett, one of the nation's "ten most wanted criminals" in a blazing gun battle near Redding, Calif.

Tollett, sought since his daring escape from the McNeil Island (Wash.) Federal penitentiary on November 22, 1949, was shot and critically wounded early Sunday by a California highway patrolman.

He gave the name Lewis Bashan, but an FBI check today established his true identity and disclosed the end of a hot pursuit that has crossed and re-crossed the continent. Tollett was one of the "ten most wanted" fugitives described in an International News Service series begun in March, 1950. He is the ninth top desperado captured since distribution of the INS series was started.

Kearns Hurls 'Dope' Charge

Suggests Maxim 'Doping' Victim

CHICAGO, June 5 — (INS) — Fight Manager Jack Kearns suggested today that perhaps his Joey Maxim was doped when he failed to defeat Ezzard Charles in their heavyweight title bout at the Chicago stadium last Wednesday.

Kearns said Maxim fought like a man in a trance against Charles.

No Evidence
Dr. J. M. Houston, chief medical examiner for the Illinois Athletic Commission, admitted the light-heavyweight champion showed "symptoms of being doped" but added that he had no evidence.

Commission members scoffed at Kearns' theory but ordered Maxim to suspend all training and fighting for 30 days after Dr. Houston reported the boxer "is on the verge of collapse from physical exhaustion."

The order will mean the postponement of Maxim' titles defense against Bob Satterfield—originally set for June 27 in Chicago.

Citizens Complain Of Water Condition In New Wilmington

A delegation of from 50 to 60 persons attended the monthly New Wilmington borough council Monday evening at the borough hall and complained about "rusty" water in New Wilmington.

Another small group was on hand to discuss the de-control of rent in the borough at a public hearing by the council.

The problem of the "rusty" water was thrashed over and the council went along with the delegation and voted to write to the Public Utilities Commission to see if something can be done about it.

Council heard views for and against taking rent controls off in the borough at the open hearing, but maintained its position in favor of removing the controls.

At a meeting of the council last month, it voted in favor of removing the controls and applied to Harrisburg for permission.

It was also announced at the meeting that the New Wilmington municipal swimming pool repairs did not work out and that the pool had to be drained again and will have to be repatched.

The pool had been patched with tar, which failed to harden as expected, and after one day of swimming it was apparent that it would have to be done over. It will be patched with cement this week.

It is hoped that the pool will be ready to open again by next Saturday.

Storekeepers, we think, are entirely too modest. They serve you and your family faithfully every day. Yet how often do you remember their importance in your life? The merchant is a businessman. He must carry a heavy investment. He must own his building or pay rent for it. There are clerks and salespeople to pay. And a constantly-changing display of food or merchandise of some kind. The merchant must always make you think that "the customer is always right." Which isn't always true. So remember the trials and tribulations of your grocer, cleaner, department-store merchant, et cetera. And give them the fairness they deserve!

Final Meeting Of Ministers Until Next Fall

Housing Project Issue Discussed Again By Pastors

New Castle Ministerial Association met for its final session Monday in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, with retiring president, Dr. J. Paul Graham, officiating.

Dr. Graham conducted the devotional period, giving the pastors some of the highlights of the United Presbyterian church General Assembly which just closed at Des Moines, Iowa. The theme of the conference was: "That ye might bear much fruit." The speaker announced that missionary supported by the Third church in Pakistan, India, would be speaking at the Union service of the churches on August 17.

Dr. Garth Koch, new pastor of the First Baptist church was introduced to the group as was Rev. Aaron Powers, assistant pastor of the Second U. P. church. Rev. A. E. Simon gave the hospital report and Rev. Everett Spring the radio report. Dr. R. M. Patterson gave the Almira and County Home reports.

Summer Program

Dr. A. Culmer Schultz, pastor of the First Methodist church gave the summer service schedule for the union services of the churches. The program opens Sunday, July 1 at Central Christian church with Dr. Schultz as the speaker and Rev. A. E. Simon as leader. The services move to Highland U. P. on July 8 and Epworth church on July 15. The latter two churches will be host to the programs on alternate Sundays with the final program planned for Central Christian church on September 2 with Dr. Robert F. Galbreath as the speaker.

The matter of admitting a representative of the Christian Science church to the Association, was once more tabled until the first meeting of the organization in September.

Rev. George Sarber, pastor of the Nazarene church and new president of the Association spoke briefly during the Monday session. He will preside over the sessions starting in September.

Discuss Housing

Dr. Graham presented Dr. J. Calvin Rose, who brought the pastors up to date on the housing program discussions which were in progress before City Council.

The Ministerial Association went on record that the organization was not in favor, nor would endorse any housing plan whether subsidized by the federal government or financed by local concerns.

The association was the first to bring the housing situation out in the open but does not officially endorse any program.

Rev. Rose advised the group of the meeting Monday morning in City Hall.

A. H. Simpson was presented by Dr. Rose, with the former speaking relative to enhancing the Neshannock creek, developing it into a summer and winter sports center. Building of a flexible dam by the city was suggested by Mr. Simpson to provide swimming facilities for the children and skating in the winter. No action was taken by the pastors, on the matter.

Eben L. Reid, executive secretary of the Greater New Castle Association was introduced to the ministers and spoke briefly. It was his first time to meet with the pastors.

The meeting adjourned with prayer by Rev. H. H. Grove with the next session planned for September 10.

Believes Reds In Western Germany Losing Steadily

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., June 5. — (INS) — A German miners union executive believes that Communism in western Germany is "going slowly but surely down hill" as a result of the world-wide moral re-armament movement.

That opinion was expressed yesterday by Max Bladock, a former official of the west German Communist party, during a session of the world assembly for moral re-armament at Mackinac Island.

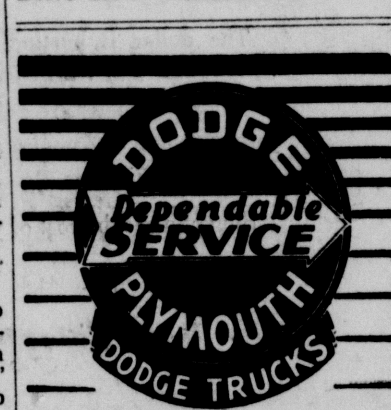

Another group of speakers described the effects of the movement among British dockworkers. Charles Stebbing of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers union stated:

"When moral re-armament came to the docks it was a great hour. We lost our hatred and bitterness. When men are happy they have security. When men have security the world has peace. Moral re-armament changed us men who knew hate have learned to love and how to fight for a rebuilt world."

GRADED VEGETABLES

WASHINGTON. — (INS) — The federal government has established different consumer grades for eight different vegetables, including potatoes, tomatoes, spinach, celery and carrots. Soon the homemaker who keeps up with the times will be asking for a bag of "grade A medium potatoes" or a bag of "Grade A large potatoes," instead of just a bag of potatoes.

Russia Loses By 11-1 Vote In U.N. Decision

By PIERRE J. HUSS

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., June 5.—The United Nations today handed Russia one of its worst defeats on the China representation question by voting 11 to 1 against consideration of a Soviet demand to oust the Chinese Nationalists.

Following in the wake of Secretary of State Acheson's declaration in Washington that the Communists "cannot shoot their way into U.N.," the 12-nation trusteeship council overwhelmingly adopted a U.S. proposal to postpone indefinitely action on a Soviet demand to admit the Chinese Communists to the council.

A stiffening British attitude against the Peiping regime was indicated by British Delegate Sir Alan Burns, who deplored the

Four Killed In Blast Of Plane; Three Survive

JACKSON, Tenn., June 5.—(INS)—Investigating teams today sought the cause of an explosion which tore an air force "Flying Boxcar" apart in flight, killing four men last night near Jackson.

Three others aboard the C-119 survived with minor injuries when they were blown clear of the aircraft and had only to pull the rip-cords of their parachutes.

Bodies of the four victims were found scattered with the wreckage over an isolated farm field.

Stewart Air Force Base officials identified two of the victims as: Capt. Kenneth W. Christenson, whose wife, Anita, lives at 520 Robert Road, Watertown, Mass.

First Lt. Stanley L. Michelson of Nashville, Tenn.

The other two dead were "aerial hitch-hikers" whose identities will be announced by their home bases, Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and Randolph Air Force Base, Tex.

The pilot, who was one of the survivors, said:

"There was some kind of explosion. I found myself in mid-air and pulled my ripcord."

Hear Plans For Sub-Contracts In Defense Jobs

Pennsylvania's Department of Commerce is prepared to aid small industries in getting sub-contracts for defense work.

Speaking to a group of industrialists this morning in the Castleton hotel, R. W. Cummings of the department outlined the procedure necessary to put industries in contact with prime contractors.

Sub-contracts

Mr. Cummings explained that securing prime contracts meant trips to Washington, appointments with various departments and considerable red tape.

"The average small industrialist is not prepared for this sort of thing," said he, "inasmuch as he is interested in sub-contracts. The Department of Commerce has made arrangements to get all information upon prime contracts, what products are needed from contractors and this information we are sending out to cities and districts where some one person is named as co-ordinator."

"For example, one prime contract let recently was for $8,500,000 of time fuses which contain about 150 parts. The company getting the prime contract will make the watch mechanisms for the fuses but 85 per cent of the parts must come from sub-contractors."

"We send out the information to the various co-ordinators and from then on the small industries can work directly with the prime contractor thus saving time and the services of any middleman."

The meeting was held by the Home Industries committee of the Greater New Castle Association with Les Johns as chairman. Present also in addition to the industrialists were James A. Rugh, president of the GNCA and Eben L. Reid, executive vice president.

Mr. Reid was named as the New Castle co-ordinator and all information from the Department of Commerce will come through him.

With Mr. Cummings were Albert Dimeolo and J. Kennedy Spafford of the department.

Headquarters For PHILCO Refrigerators

PITTSBURGH, June 5.—Aetna-Standard Engineering company, Ellwood City, will produce a new type anti-aircraft gun, it was disclosed yesterday by a sub-contractor, the Gibson Refrigerator company, Greenville, Mich.

Neither Aetna-Standard nor the Pittsburgh Ordnance District would confirm the contract. Albert M. Gibson, vice president of the Michigan company, said its order for front and rear wheel axles, and the framework for the gun carriage and gun-directing equipment, will approach $1,900,000. Production is scheduled to begin in September and continue for 16 months.

Slash Prices On Father's Day Gifts

NEW YORK, June 5.—(INS)—A long list of Father's Day gifts was added today to price-slashed items in New York's leading department stores as the "battle of bargains" moved into its sixth day.

The items for Father's Day—June 17—were brought up as replacements for good that have been scooped off the shelves in the initial price onslaught last week.

The emphasis previously had been on electrical appliances and men's suits, many of which had been slashed in price as much as 50 per cent.

SAME SHOE ...different dollar

Y ou know how shoes have gone up in price. But don't blame the manufacturer or the store. Blame the dollar. It buys only about half what it did in the Thirties.

The dollar is hurting us, too. Costs of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business are going up and up, just like costs of supplies and equipment for other businesses.

But compare the cost of your telephone service with the costs of other things ... and you'll agree that telephone service is a remarkable bargain.

In relation to almost anything you can name, telephone service is high in value and low in cost. We're doing our level best to keep it that way. Even if its cost should go up a few cents a day, telephone service would still represent a smaller part of the family budget than it did 15 years ago.

Further Information On Public Housing Plan

(Second of a Series)
Public housing in the United States is not old, nor is it new. It was introduced in the early 1930's as a "pump primer" in the depression days.

The U. S. Housing Act provided for an initial authorization of $800,000,000 and an annual authorization of $28,000,000 for sixty years.

Defense Units
During the war the Lantham Act provided for defense housing in areas where war contracts were being worked. Another method of building housing units is the FHA plan, which will be touched upon later.

In Lawrence County there is but one housing unit in the low rental class but this is not a housing development under the Low Rental Housing plan.

Ellwood City has 100 living units in its housing development but these were built under the defense housing provisions. The building cost was approximately $500,000 in 1941 but builders say the same units would cost at least $1,000,000 under present day prices.

The Ellwood City unit is under the supervision of the Lawrence County Housing Authority with Paxton R. Pike of Ellwood City as the chairman. Mr. Pike was asked for information concerning the operation of the units and said this:

"The Ellwood City project is still a Defense Housing unit. For a three-room apartment a rent of $32 is charged, for a five room unit, a rent of $37 is charged. In addition to the living quarters the tenant gets his water, electricity and gas furnished, although where it goes over a certain maximum the excess charge is prorated among the tenants."

"This was a government financed project and the government put in streets, laid sewers and did other services. We are asking for a 100 unit low rental housing project in Ellwood City and we already have some information upon the operation of it."

Estimated $1,000,000
"It is estimated the building cost will be about $1,000,000. I was informed by the Philadelphia office that the rental for a three room apartment under this plan would be about $42 per month."

"We cannot change the rentals in the present 100 units for they are still listed as defense housing units. We have made application to have them transferred to Low Rental Housing Authority which would mean the rents would be increased."

"Where a low rental housing unit is authorized, the Housing Authority floats a bond issue which is purchased by those interested. The government guarantees payment of the bonds."

"If the housing is erected on a site which is not on a street the city is required to build streets, lay sewers and run water, electric, gas and sewer lines to the property line. The city pays for this."

Informed On Problems
Mr. Pike is one man in the county who seems to be thoroughly informed upon the working of housing problems.

There is another plan of providing housing and this plan, the FHA plan has been used three times in New Castle. The Sussex Apartments, the Flannery Apartments and the Shenango Homes, now being built have utilized this plan.

Under this plan the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania contributes a portion of the money, the federal government guarantees the mortgage through the FHA and the builder puts in some of his own money.

When completed and occupied the building is the same as any privately built housing unit in that it is assessed for taxes upon the same basis as other homes.

In Defense Housing there is no yardstick of income necessary for residents. A man may be making $3,000 per year or $10,000. Under the Low Rental housing plan there is a certain maximum beyond which a tenant cannot go and remain a tenant.

Yesterday we said there was a lack of information upon the need for housing here. There is also a lack of information upon the maximum income of tenants. This we expect to get for tomorrow's article on the housing question.

No Action Taken On Bids For Lots

Council considered bids offered for nine West avenue lots yesterday but failed to take any action. They are considering the feasibility of auctioning them off in the hope of getting higher prices.

Beef Prices Are Being Probed

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(INS)—The government is quietly probing today reports of "upgrading" of low cost beef cuts to fancier prices and the diversion of meat into black market channels.

Price Stabilizer DiSalle reported that a 160-city survey showed that there is generally an "abundance" of the most popular retail grades of beef—choice and good—but a general shortage of commercial and utility grades.

DiSalle said that the shortage is being investigated to determine whether the utility and commercial is being "upgraded" to good and choice to command better prices, or whether the meat has been diverted into a black market. Shortages of beef around Chicago, the nation's largest livestock market, will get particular attention from OPS investigators.

Stray Bullet Hits Businessman In Pittsburgh Street

PITTSBURGH, June 5.—(INS)—A prominent businessman was in serious condition today after he was struck by a stray bullet on a downtown Pittsburgh street.

Police said the bullet was fired in an argument in front of a night club last night, but that the businessman, Marvin W. Marshall, industrial sales manager for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, was not a participant in the dispute.

The bullet was fired by Thomas Wall, 29, a doorman at the Club Copa, according to police, during a quarrel with three men about parking an automobile in front of the club.

Marshall was walking along the street with W. L. Tomlinson, of Pittsburgh Plate's Detroit sales office, and J. M. Freiberg, of New Kensington, who is employed in the firm's Pittsburgh sales office.

The bullet penetrated Marshall's right shoulder and may have scraped his lung, hospital attendants said. Police said Wall telephoned them that he would surrender as soon as he had arranged for a lawyer and bond.

Have Moving Up Exercises At Senior High

"Moving Up" exercises were conducted Monday in the New Castle senior high school it was announced today by Mrs. Nelson, assistant principal.

In explanation Mrs. Nelson said that this was the first of such exercises. The juniors reported to the assembly seats they had occupied as juniors and after home room roles were called by Denny Must, Junior class president and reelected Senior Class president, they were ushered to senior seats.

Three members of the May 1951 graduating class, Dave Lewis, William Frenkel and Jack Hughes served as ushers.

Rev. Robert H. Mayo of the First

U. P. church then addressed the class concerning citizenship and Mrs. Nelson spoke to them about the influence of the past on the present, and the present on the future.

To represent all the classes who had graduated from New Castle, a chain was started by joining hands with the three go boys of this year's May graduating class with Denny Must representing next year's class.

All seniors then joined hands to form a solid chain.

The Blue and White class ribbons were dropped from the balcony to link the first and second floors and Catherine Lynch then sang, accompanied by Larry Halm on the piano.

Rotarians See Film Showing Meat Production

New Castle Rotary club members saw an interesting film at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday noon, which was on a subject near to the heart of every member.

The film was entitled, "This is Life," and showing the production of meat, from the days on the range, through the stockyards, packing plant, and retailer, right down to the dinner table.

It showed many of the problems connected with the industry, and gave those who saw the picture, a new concept on the industry, which produces a high grade product for the population of our country.

It was announced that Treasurer Frank L. Orth, of the New Castle Club, is confined to his home by illness.

Find Skeleton Of Animal In Cave

Skeleton of a small animal, the size of a squirrel and footprint of another animal, the size of a wolf's paw, were discovered by members of the Cavern explorers, a new organization here, in the Harlansburg cavern, Saturday, according to Carl Leathers, a member of the organization.

The skeleton of the small animal was so ancient it began to disintegrate when touched, and was left where it was until speleologists can examine it.

Deep in the cavern the explorers also discovered the track of a large animal. It was about the size of a wolf's paw, Leathers reports.
